

Katie Fallon

Director of Housing Policy

Before coming to OHFA, Katie Fallon completed her Ph.D. in sociology at the University of Wisconsin-Madison. Her dissertation used a mixed methods approach to examine resource mirages: regions where some residents are unable to access local resources, such as grocery stores and banks, due to barriers related to economic and social inequality. Prior to her graduate work, Katie worked on building sustainable housing and transportation systems at Nica HOPE in Managua, Nicaragua and the Rockefeller Foundation. She received her Bachelor's degree from Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of International and Public Affairs with a minor in urban studies.
