

Taylor Koch

Director of Multifamily Housing

In 2023, Taylor Koch was promoted to director of Multifamily Development at OHFA where he oversees the state's 4% and 9% Low-Income Housing Tax Credit (LIHTC) programs in addition to administering gap financing programs, such as the federal HOME Investment Partnerships (HOME), federal Housing Trust Fund (HTF), HOME - American Rescue Plan (HOME-ARP), and Community Development Block Grant (CDBG). Taylor has spent his entire career in affordable housing, including time at two nonprofit affordable housing development firms and one other state housing finance agency (HFA). Taylor holds a bachelor's degree in economics and political science as well as master's degree in business administration and public administration from The Ohio State University.